

Derby Roundhouse

Client – Derby College

Creation of an Interpretation Plan and its subsequent implementation

Contract value £70,000 (HLF and English Heritage funded)

Design and production of a range of interpretive and learning materials to help students and visitors understand and appreciate the role that this historic railway building, dating from 1839, played as part of the Midland Railway's extensive loco works. The resource is based around illustrative and graphic material including:

- Viewpoint time portal with life size figures on layered acrylic panels to create a 3D effect
- Super-graphics of people associated with the loco works produced in large scale on doors, walls and screens
- Illustrated map leaflet of Derby's 'railway quarter'
- Gateway interpretation at Derby station
